GROUP HEARS JOE YANITY

Attends Meeting Of Kappa Delta Pi

By JEANNE RUARK

Joe Yanity, junior of Athens, Ohio, Eastern's delegate to the national convocation of Kappa Delta Pi, honorary educational society, spoke Monday night at a special meeting of the Delta Alpha Chapter held in Room 201 of the Keen Johnson Student Union Building.

The 16th biennial convocation of this organization was held February 24-26 at the Traymore Hotel in Atlantic City. Two hundred and twenty delegates from 152 of the 153 chapters in the United States attended.

The convocation, as the official governing body of Kappa Delta Pi, made several important decisions affecting educational practices in our American colleges and universities. The local chapters were commended for their excellent progress shown during the past two years by the retiring president, T. C. McCracken of Ohio University, who was ill and could not attend. His message was read by Second Vice President Frank L. Wright, Washington University, St. Louis.

Famous educators including Patty Smith Hill of Teachers College, Columbia University; William Chandler Bagley, Columbia University; Charles Judd, University of Chicago, and Mary Woolley, former president of Mt. Holyoke College, were honored in an "In Memoriam" tribute given by the Laureate Counselor, Edward S. Everden, Columbia University.

A highlight of the convocation, according to Mr. Yanity, was an address, "What Is Russia Up To?" by Dr. George Counts, professor of education at Columbia University.

A formal reception Tuesday afternoon and a banquet Wednesday night contributed to the entertainment of the delegates. The guest speaker for the dinner was Wilson MacDonald, poet laureate of Canada.

Many important business matters were discussed with our delegate in active participation. Mr. Yanity brought back to the local chapter a number of ideas and plans for far more active organization here on the campus.

Other colleges in the state which sent representatives were the University of Kentucky and Murray and Morehead State Colleges.

New officers elected for the ensuing two years are William McKinley Robinson, Western Michigan College of Education, executive president; Katherine Vickery, Alabama College, first vice president; Frank L. Wright, Washington University, second vice president, and E. I. F. Williams, Heidelberg College, editor, recorder and treasurer.

Association Hears Mrs. J. M. Boles

A program on international affairs was given last night at Beaulieu Inn by the Richmond branch of the American Association of University Women. Mrs. J. M. College Fine Arts Committee Presents Violinist March 17

Miss Helen Kwalwassher, violinist, will be presented at 8:00 p. m. Wednesday, Mar. 17, in the Hiram Brock Auditorium, it was announced at noon today by Dr. Fred P. Giles, chairman of the Fine Arts Committee which has arranged the program.

This musician, whose formal New York bow last Spring in Town Hall brought her brilliant press and public acclaim and distinguished engagements, was a celebrated child prodigy in the East since her appearance at the age of six as Bach soloist with orchestra. The daughter of Dr. Jacob Kwalwassher of Syracuse University and of Pearl Kwalwassher, pianist, Miss Kwalwassher began her music studies when she was three.

Following her Town Hall recital, the young violinist was chosen by the Juilliard Student Council to represent it at the International Prague Youth Festival held last summer. There, in competition with young artists from 62 countries, she secured awards of honor. Upon her return to the United States, she was heard in Canadian Concert debuts and in New York and other Eastern recital and orchestral appearances. The current season will take her on several tours as far as the Midwest.

"Endowed with youthful charm, fleet fingers, a good bow arm and musicianship to spare, Miss Kwalwassher impresses her listeners immediately with her deep sincerity backed by her splendid talent," Dr. Giles stated in his announcement.

She will be accompanied in Richmond by Miss Ida Bonato. The following program will be given:

WILL CONDUCT CAMPAIGN

To Provide Industrial Education For Negroes

NEW YORK, Mar. 11 (Special)—Eastern students, together with other colleges in the nation, have been asked to enlist in a campaign that will provide industrial education for Negroes, among them many former GIs, who have not had the opportunity to gain higher education.

This movement, headed in the colleges by Dr. Alonzo Myers, chairman of the Higher Education Department of New York University, and including many faculty members of colleges throughout the country, is for the Booker T. Washington Birthplace Memorial.

At the birthplace in Franklin County, Va., the first of a series of industrial training schools for negroes and an inter-faith chapel will be established as a living memorial to the great Negro educator, Booker T. Washington.

The campaign centers about the distribution of the new Booker T. Washington commemorative half dollars, authorized by Special Act of Congress to be sold for one dollar, with the proceeds going to the Booker T. Washington Birthplace Memorial project. These memorial coins, bearing the likeness of the great Negro spokesman, make it possible for every student to do his share.

"It is to help those who cannot acquire scholastic knowledge, but who do need training of some kind that these industrial training schools will be provided," Dr. Myers said. "They will do much for the welfare of the country, and they will also help to make this a stronger America."

The national campaign for the Booker T. Washington Birthplace Memorial is headed by George E. Allen, of Washington, D. C., presidential adviser.

Dr. Myers announces that students and faculty members wishing to help the movement can obtain the Booker T. Washington commemorative half dollars by mailing one dollar or more for each coin to: Booker T. Washington Birthplace Memorial, Franklin County, Virginia.

A. B. Carter, associate professor of agriculture, was presented a pocket watch Saturday by the Kentucky State Holstein Cattle Club of which he has been secretary-treasurer for the past eleven years. Mr. Carter has established one of the leading registered Holstein herds in the state at Eastern Kentucky State College.

Officials Are Guests

Dean W. J. Moore and D. J. Cart, director of public relations, were in Pineville Saturday to address the Bell County Teachers Association.

Truman Leads Student Presidential Survey

With a little over a fourth of the poll completed, Harry S. Truman leads in a presidential survey which is being conducted by Fred A. Engle.

Gov. Tom E. Dewey of New York is second. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, newly appointed president of Columbia University, would undoubtedly stand higher in the poll had he not withdrawn himself from the candidacy earlier this year, Engle said.

The poll, based on the opinions of students interviewed at Eastern shows:

Mr. Truman, 47 percent, Governor Dewey, 28; Harold Stassen, 16; Sen. Arthur Vandenberg, 6; General Eisenhower, 15; Henry A. Wallace, 1; and others, 5.

Roark Building Serves Both Commonwealth and Nation

By BUFORD DAVIS

And HAROLD RICHARDSON

The two writers of this article were leisurely conversing when the subject drifted to the Roark Building. Each thought his opinions would naturally differ, but when the ideas were exchanged they were found to be similar. So much so, in fact, that it seemed as though these were originated by the same person. When made his contribution the common feeling was strengthened to such a degree that both thought it possible that this feeling might permeate itself throughout the "sons of the Roark."

Although the Roark Building may be similar in structure and appearance as the other buildings on the campus, in the minds of these writers there will always be sharp lines of distinction. A science major who goes through Eastern will spend more time by three fold in the Roark Building than in any other building. As a result the mind will undergo metamorphosis which will awaken and see the world through somewhat different eyes. This new perception to the inner nature of things perhaps stimulates fraternity among the science majors. A scientist can express virtually any phenomenon by a mathematical formula. To illustrate this fact one student facetiously remarked, "All hopes for the honor roll de-

CLUB BEGINS ROPER POLL

World Affairs To Conduct Survey

The World Affairs Club, in cooperation with Time, the weekly news magazine, is conducting a Roper Poll on the campus. This unusual international survey of public opinion is being conducted among the people of ten countries: Great Britain, France, Italy, Switzerland, Sweden, Germany, Mexico, Brazil, Canada and the United States.

Allan B. Pennington, senior and president of the club, stated this morning that "we believe it will be most interesting to see how the opinions of some of the internationally-minded students on this campus stack up against those of students at other colleges and universities, and against the opinions of the nation as a whole."

Questions being asked in the survey concern the differences existing among nations outside the Russian sphere, attitudes toward the Marshall Plan, a "United States of western Europe," the United Nations and individual estimates of the stability or instability of other countries will also be polled. In addition, questions will seek to uncover individual definitions of what constitutes "a good way of life"—and determine the hopes, fears, prejudices and misunderstandings of the ten populations concerned.

DR. GROVES SPEAKS HERE

Centre President In Assembly Hour Address

Dr. Walter A. Groves, president of Centre College, Danville, was the guest speaker at the assembly hour on Wednesday, March 3. His subject was "Oil and the Middle East."

"American interests are in the Middle East to stay, whether we like it or not," Dr. Groves stated. Geologists concede that the supply of oil in the United States is limited and at the present rate of consumption will be exhausted by 1965 to the extent that oil will have to be imported just to meet our demands. By 1955, consumption will have passed production in this country, he added.

Dr. Groves continued that all the "fireworks" for a third world war are in the Middle East. The whole setup is tied in with the Palestine situation, he pointed out, with the money from the sale of oil leases going to the Arabs, who will consequently have the resources "to throw the Jews out of Palestine."

The program was arranged by the World Affairs Club.

B. L. Yates Named Editor Of Newspaper

Brown Lee Yates, a student at Eastern State Teachers College in 1934-35 and the first semester of 1935-36, was appointed this week editor of The Cynthiana Democrat. He succeeds Ben A. Farmer, former city editor of The Richmond Daily Register who resigned.

Mr. Yates, a veteran of World War II, completes his undergraduate work this month at the University of Kentucky. He will receive his Bachelor's of Art degree in Journalism in June.

Dr. Schnieb was selected as chairman of the committee to conduct the Kentucky Science Talent Search which is comparable to the Westinghouse science talent search.

Dr. Schnieb is in Cincinnati today where she is meeting with Northern Kentucky sponsors to complete plans for the state Junior Academy of Science conference to be held April 24 in Bellevue. She will return Sunday.

Col. Paschall Heard By The Lions Club

Col. William D. Paschall was the principal speaker at the Lions Club which met last night at the Glyndon Hotel. He spoke on the Orient with emphasis being placed on the Philippines.

Theoretically, Colonel Paschall stated, the United States plans to leave the Philippines, having granted them independence, but "she is not out of the Orient nor will she be for some time." This country is pledged to guarantee the independence granted to the islands, he added.

Colonel Paschall mentioned the size of the territory covered by the islands, the various customs, languages and the difficulty of communication, and the education and political concepts of the people.

Campus Personalities

By JEANNE RUARK

Our first guest of honor in this week's personality parade is a husky little gent who, like Senator Claghorn, hails from the deep South, "the South I say." It is none other than Carrol Wade McGuffey of Chula, Ga. "Mac," as he is popularly known, is a senior mathematics major. He has attended Eastern State College during all four years of his college academic work.

Aside from the fact that he is a Class A "Brain," McGuffey finds time for many extra-curricular activities. He is a member of the steering committee of the Veterans Club, a member of the Math Club, of World Affairs, of Kappa Delta Pi and of The Milestone staff. Yet with all these activities, "Mac" maintains a level head and a friendly smile that endears him to his many friends.

Since Tommy Dorsey seems to be quite a favorite with the dance band fans, he, too, gets "Mac's" vote. For some obscure reason, known only to intimate friends, his all-time favorite song is "Tallahassee." Pet peeve: Idle chatter (or gossip to you). If you don't believe this ask Jake Rudolph Parsons. As to pastime, our friend chooses to discuss "Capitalism versus Communism." And believe me, "Mac" really has the facts to back up his statements. His favorite dish (all interested girls, please note) consist of steak with french fries.

When looking for a swell all-around guy, a fellow with brains and a personality plus, just ask for our gentleman from Georgia, Carroll Wade McGuffey. He is your man!

Now, let us look into the "femme fatale" department. Here is an attractive blonde dish that you fellows have seen in a bathing suit more than once. If you haven't, it's your own fault—you should take swimming lessons. Yes, you guessed it, she is Florida's little ray of sunshine, Glenna Frisby. "Fris," as she is popularly known, is a senior from Fellemsmere, Fla., and is majoring in Phys. Ed.

As to activities, it would be easier just to name something she is not in. Intelligence, athletic ability, good looks and a personality that just won't quit—all these combine to make our heroine one of the most sought-after students on the college campus. Her acquaintances automatically become her friends. As proof, please recall that she was "Miss Popularity of 1947." For a resume of her activities, read the Milestone, which will be distributed late in May. Here you will find that in addition to her active participation in many clubs, "Fris" was also chosen by "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities."

When asked her favorite food, she replied "that's easy. Southern fried chicken. Yum, yum!" Pet peeve: A "fourmat." For a definition see Webster or contact Conrad Ott. Now, here is a gal with a rare appreciation of classical music. She chooses Spike Jones as her band leader and the song, "Slap 'Er Down Again, Pa."

While "Fris" is with us in body, her heart is definitely AWOL. She would like to spend more than just an occasional weekend in Louisville. The reason: That debonair young M.D.-to-be, Billy Brashear, who, by the way, gave her that sparkler that she wears. A winsome wit with winning ways—that's our "Fris."

Veterans now receiving $65 will be raised automatically to $75 April 1.

Veterans receiving $90 will automatically be changed to $105 beginning April 1.

Married veterans with a child should come to the Registrar's office and fill out Form 686c at once. This will serve to raise the subsistence to $120 beginning April 1. In addition to filling out Form 686c the veteran should see the contact representative of the Veterans Administration who will be in Room 202, Student Union Building, Friday of each week between the hours of 9 a. m. and 3 p. m. The contact representative will arrange to get an official record of birth from the Bureau of Vital Statistics.

MAROON RETURNS

Gale Roberts, one time Maroon grid great, returned to the campus last week and visited with his many friends here.

For Squares Only

By BILL GRAVELY

To The Cleaners We Shall Go—
"May I hold your Palm, Olive?" "Not on your Lifebuoy. You're out of Lux!"—and so are you who missed the Corbin High School Choir in assembly Wednesday. Since 1942, Mr. John Griffy of that school has performed one of the cleanest jobs of revitalizing choral music in many a wash. His efforts have not been in vain, for already the influence of his good work is seen in the strengthening of music education in all of south-eastern Kentucky. Mr. Griffy's forty-five charges jaunted to an Kiwanis International convention in Chicago last summer to spread the word that Kentucky isn't quite as far behind the rest of the music world as some seem to think.

McPeep Leaps—

Creditors of Tramman Owen McPeep will be sorrowed to learn that he blew in and out Sunday. His good word brought news of the fifteen-piece dance band he now manages in Bowling Green with Bob Rush. These two were well-liked Eastern characters last school year, and their loss is greatly mourned.

Pop Bop—

Hot on the heels of the Military Ball in early April will come the first annual For-Squares-Only formal—April 30. Harry Nose and his Nine Nasty Nose Pickers are booked for it and will play their recently recorded version of "I'll Get You - Yet, Boogie."

A program for all will be offered by the combined forces of the orchestra, choir, harp and organ, who together with the selected soloists are to present Eastern's fifteenth annual presentation of "The Seven Last Words" in Hiram Brock Auditorium on Sunday evening, March 14. Come early and avoid the rush.

A Word From The Y's

By ELIZABETH PENNINGTON

Two films, "Man's One Family," and "Let My People Live," were shown last night at Vespers. These movies were presented by the Race Relations Committee of the Young Women's Christian Association.

The picture, "Let My People Live," featured the Tuskegee Choir and an all-Negro cast. The other one answered several questions on races and nullified the myth of a pure race.

This year, as in the past, the Y's will present their annual Sunrise Easter-Morn Service in the amphitheater. The program is always attended by a large group of faculty members, students and townspeople. Students who plan to remain here March 28 will surely enjoy the service.

The World Student Service Fund drive has been extended as we are short of our goal. Make your contributions today.

ROARK BUILDING SERVES COMMONWEALTH AND NATION

Chemicals emitting from the rows and columns of bottles in the chemistry lab would penetrate our nostrils. Strange entanglements of glass tubing, rubber hose, and beakers representing, in miniature size, alcoholic distilleries and oil refineries, meet the eye. The show cases in the hall on the first floor are filled with the handiwork of taxidermists, chemicals mentioned in the Bible, and skeletons of frogs, lizards and cats. In the biology labs are living plants and animals. There is a gallon jug sealed with paraffin in which lives in perfect balance, a fish and a plant. In crockery urns are crayfish and leopard frogs. In transparent containers are pickled embryos, two-headed pigs, and worms of many species. On the top floor we will see a miniature solar system, maps, and globes. In the physics department we see a giant slide rule, vacuum tubes, electrical appliances, swinging pendulums, strings and pulleys.

As we leave the Roark we pass through a vestibule. We notice to our left a tarnished bronze plaque bearing the name of Ruric Nevel Roark, a giant among educators. We walk beneath four huge columns and down the steps long since worn into troughs and crests by our predecessors.

Many students will rejoice at the completion of the new science building which is forthcoming. Yet, these writers will sadly look in retrospect at the days when the science department centralized its activity in the Roark. Time, the advancement of science, and the increased number of students seeking the attainment of higher education have made this edifice obsolete.

MAROONED with ED CARTER

Move Over Henry, There's A Party Joining You

RICHMOND, March 11 (By The Asphyxiated Press)—Last night, a group of hard-working Kentucky politicians met in a smoke-filled (courtesy of the power-plant) room and nominated a presidential candidate to end all presidential candidates.

Deep-browed, white-haired, empty-headed Drophead P. Squeezeblood, noted raconteur, musical detective, and author of "The Rover Boys at Eastern" was chosen to bear the standard. Among the tycoons, politicians and relatives present were Westbrook Gravely, eminent authority on chamber music; Herbert Hoover, Johann Sebastian Shakespeare, Lester Gooch, S. Canyon, Bumphrey Gocart, and Jacques Le Rippeur.

In an interview with your correspondent early this morning, Candidate Squeezeblood stated his party platform. When elected, said Squeezeblood, "mah fust act will be to send Henry Wallace to Russia; mah second act will be to put lil ole Harry Truman in charge of the musicians' union. As part of the Squeezeblood Recovery Program, ah will redeem all confederate bonds at par value. Mah third, and get this son, it's important, will be to collect foah years salary and resign and let th' Courier-Journal take ovah. My party slogan is gonna be "Squeezeblood will give us a chicken in every pot and a veteran's family in every garage." Son, Ah have spoken.

Irritating Interrogation Of The Fortnight

(By The Epiring Reporter)

Question: Will the trend toward centralization of institutes of higher learning in certain sections of the nation have any bearing on the problem of the salient relationship between the mean humidity and the Binet intelligence quotient per capita and per thousand of population, excluding certain economic groups?

Answers: Joe Todd, Testuberack: "I think you have omitted the bearing of predestination and antidesabismmentarianism on quantum activity and volk wandering."

D. Talmadge Hogue, Covington: "NO."

George Chesterton, Newark, N. J.: "Will you repeat the question, please."

Crug Rice, Manchester, Ohio: "All problems are merely verbal." Khatchaturian Cemetery, Washington, D. C.: "Has Petrillo heard yet?"

Charles Coy, Richmond: "I'm damn bitter about it. My only solution is that I favor a return to the good old American prosperity under Coolidge."

C. J. Lardner, Bear Wallow: "I refuse to answer on the grounds that this entire proceedings are unconstitutional."

WESTERN WINS KIAAC TOURNEY

Maroons Topped 62-52 In Semi-Finals

Kentucky's colorful, colossal, cage carnival—the KIAAC tournament—closed in a clamor of excitement at the Louisville Armory when Western's classy Hilltoppers copped the coveted championship by chopping Louisville's Cardinals 63-62.

In the consolation playoff between Eastern and Murray, the Thoroughbreds edged the Maroons 78-77 by registering a free throw in the last six seconds of play in the second extra period.

Trounce Morehead

While Louisville, Western and Murray were easily winning their first and second round "warm-up" games, the Maroons clashed with Morehead after a first round bye. Coach Ellis Johnson's Morehead Eagles came out strong but fell back under Eastern's 86-40 barrage.

Moving into the semi-finals, the Maroons put up a never-say-die battle with Western's Hilltoppers before bowing 62-52 in the closing minutes. In this contest the Hilltoppers got an early jump on the Maroons in the opening minutes of play by registering more than sixty percent of their shots. Midway in the first half, Eastern got rolling and made a strong comeback to narrow the margin to one or two field goals on several occasions. However, red-hot Dee Gibson pulled the Diddlemen away each time the maroon and white threatened.

The ball game was a battle between a smaller superior coached Eastern team and a bigger more experienced Western squad. The advantage in height spelled the difference as the Hilltoppers stayed ahead to win 62-52.

HOLD IT HILLTOPPER—Western's All-American Candidate Dee Gibson (in white) goes into a ballet dance as Maroon Forward Joe Fryz (No. 30) does his best to stop him. Ed Shemelya (No. 33) and Paul Hicks (No. 21) hurry to help but the damage was already done for a foul was called on Fryz. This action shot was taken in the KIAAC tourney semi-final which the Hilltoppers won 62-52. (Photograph courtesy Louisville Times).

VETS CLOSE UNDEFEATED

Coach Ray Giltner's Veterans Club basketball squad closed its campaign last week with a perfect record of eleven wins and no losses. In annexing their final victory, the Vets trounced the Berea Hawks 52-41.

Pacing the Eastern discharges in the scoring in this tilt were Ote West and Cecil Shyrock with 13 markers apiece followed by Art Seesholtz with nine. The Vets records show that Larry Morris leads the squad's point makers with a total of 113 points for an eleven point average. Ote West and Cecil Shyrock are close behind with 99 and 85 points, respectively. The Vet cagers compiled a fine record this season and have an organization which all may be proud.

ARMORY JINX

The Jefferson County Armory in Louisville proved to be a jinx to the Maroons this past season for they lost five of their eight setbacks there. The five losses were to Southern Methodist, Denver, Louisville, Western and Murray.

SPORT SHOTS

By PAUL DUNCAN, Sports Editor

Take a fine meal, an excellent humorous toastmaster, a host of fine speakers, a spacious modern dining hall, a group of pleasant attractive waitresses and two fine ball clubs, and you have a descriptive picture of the annual athletic banquet held here on March 2.

That banquet, sponsored by the Veterans Club in cooperation with the College Red Cross Unit and the athletic office, was a rare treat that many students missed. The banquet was a fine tribute to a pair of fine teams that have established outstanding records the past year against major competition.

Interesting Talks

Dr. J. T. Dorris asked the invocation. Following the serving of the meal, Dr. Charles A. Keith, took over as toastmaster and kept the audience in a jolly mood for the remainder of the evening. Interesting talks were presented by such guest speakers as President W. F. O'Donnell, Dr. O. F. Hume and Dr. W. J. Moore. Following those gentlemen at the speaker's platform were Athletic Director Charles T. Hughes, Head Football Coach Tom Samuels, Assistant Football Coach Fred Darling and Assistant Basketball Coach Ed Lander. The members of the athletic department all showed that they could handle a speaking assignment just as well as they could handle a gridiron or hardwood opponent.

Zilliman Popular

Just as the menu planners saved the ice cream and cake for the end of the meal, the toastmaster save a fine speaker for the end of the program. That speaker was none other than Jack Zilliman, one of Kentucky's newest radio sensations. The sportscaster from radio station WVLK presented a fine talk on the high caliber of basketball played in the fast moving KIAAC. His fine delivery and winning personality gained him many listeners and friends in this area.

ED LANDER

One of the active men behind the scenes of Eastern's basketball might is Assistant Coach Ed Lander. He has been a big help to Coach McBrayer this season and he should be of greater assistance to Coach "Mac" in years to come.

KIAAC Tourney Topics — The Eastern varsity made its headquarters at Louisville's Hotel Seebach with many loyal Easterners also stopping there. The rival Western Hilltoppers were housed at the nearby Kentucky Hotel. Press and radio coverage of the tournament was handled very well with ideal facilities provided. For this area, both Jack Zilliman of WVLK and Bill Moore of WKLA gave fine play-by-play accounts from court-side. In the Eastern-Murray consolation finale, a trio of referees was used. However, no vast improvement was noticed as many fans still booed several decisions—and they were justified. The press dinner that the Armory officials gave was truly out of this world with plenty of fine food and "refreshments" for all typewriter-toters. When Governor Clements announced that Goebel Ritter and Chuck Mrazovich had been named to the all-tourney team, it marked the second time that both have been thus honored. The tournament was well managed by Western's Kelly Thompson who was on the job every minute. The Eastern-Western game and the Western-Louisville tilt, no doubt, were the two best games of the year for Kentucky cage fans.

Campus Quotes—That crowd at the game was louder than one of Dr. Kennamer's neckties! ... Dee Gibson's play for Western was as priceless as a bottle of peroxide in Burnam Hall. ... Good referees are as scarce as coffee or milk in the Grill of the Student Union Building.
